THE MORGAN GARDNER BULKELEY HIGH SCHOOL

PREFACE

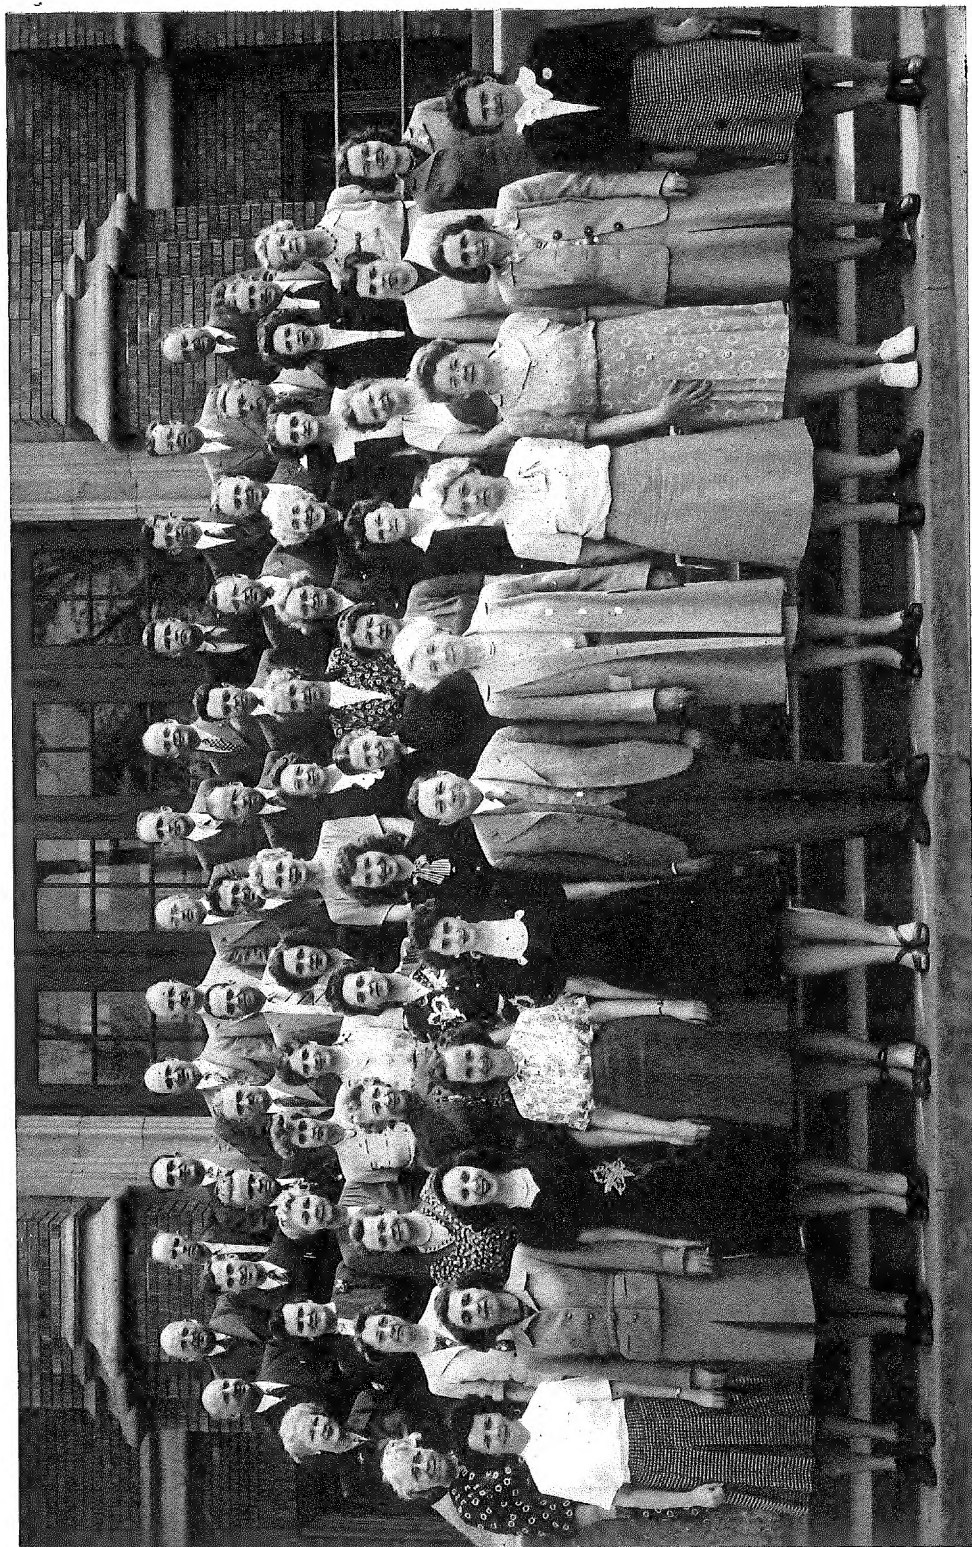

ONLY now, amid the hustle and bustle that is graduation, do we begin to realize fully what these past few years at Bulkeley have meant to us. They represent a certain phase of our lives, our gradual transition from "kids" to young adults. The friendships we've made, and memories we've accumulated, we'll never forget. We shall always want to remember our fun-packed days here at Bulkeley, but we must also realize that this part of our lives is almost over, and begin thinking about the future. Our possibilities for success will not be measured by how many dances we've attended, or how many school offices we've held. While we are in school these things are of prime importance to us — the petty worries and care-free fun are all part of a normal high school life.

But futures are built on hard work and ambition. These are the foundation stones of success and contentment. If we start out with a clear, rational perspective of what really makes sound lives, and are willing to start at the bottom and work up the ladder, half the battle of life will be won. In future years, as we strive to reach the top, we shall look back nostalgically on the happy abandon and special memories of our high school careers. So that we may recapture these days forever, we have compiled this Class Book.

To Miss Potter for her genuine interest and cheerfulness; to Miss Safford for her untiring assistance; to Art Editor Marilyn Camilleri and her talented associates Eleanore Lundquist, James Garvey, Patricia Simms, and Cornelius DiBella; to Joseph S. Perez for his colorful sports write-ups; to George Conklin for his photography work; to our typists Norma Axelrod, Gloria Carlson, Genevieve Maznicki and Ruth McCurry; to Dr. Mahoney and to the office staff — we extend our most sincere thanks for their unselfish cooperation and wonderful spirit.

This yearbook represents the Class of 1948 in print. It is up to us to represent it in spirit and accomplishment. We hope that you will receive as much enjoyment from reading this book as we have had in writing it, and we wish you true happiness in the years to come.

OUR PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

REGARDLESS of world conditions — whether they be warlike or peaceful — there is one American army which receives a million new recruits every year, and that is the army of high school graduates. To this army Bulkeley High School sends its full quota at this time — you, members of the Class of '48.

Some of you will go on to college and professional schools; others will enter business; still others will become office managers; and some will join the ranks of skilled artisans. But irrespective of your calling, all of you will belong to that fifty per cent of the American population which, by reason of its formal education extending over twelve years or more, constitutes the backbone of American civilization.

It will not be unreasonable, therefore, to expect from you stability in thought and action in matters pertaining to the economic, political, and social life of the nation. It will not be unreasonable to expect leadership from you in movements which make for a better civic life.

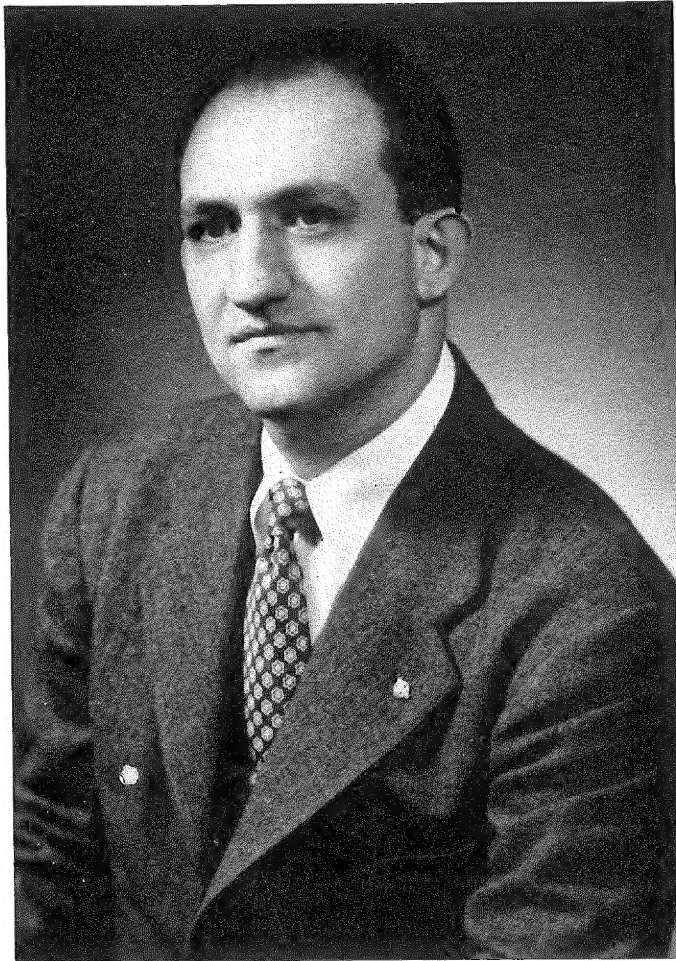

As high school graduates you have spent some years in the study of American History and Government. It would, therefore, be quite natural to expect you to be numbered among the strongest defenders of American democracy, because you have learned to know the fundamental principles of democracy as embodied in the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. If we know the value of our stakes at issue, we are better able to exercise courage and wisdom in safeguarding them and are less likely to falter in our faith or become the victims of hysteria.

Democracy is always on the defense. This is due to the fact that it guarantees individual liberty to its people, and freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and freedom of assembly. Its citizens have the right to question national as well as local policies, to criticize their governmental representatives, and to vote them out of office at stated times as provided by law. But human nature being what it is, there is always a tendency for some people, in the exercise of their liberty, to encroach upon the liberties of others. Here, then, is where the value of a high school and college education comes in; it is assumed that by reason of this education the American citizen has learned to know the value of cooperation, of justice, and fair play, and especially to respect and to protect the rights and liberties of minority groups.

Life is not made up of combat only. The combative attitude, no less than the shirking one, is apt to lead to national destruction, as the downfall of Sparta and Rome in ancient days, and Germany and Japan in recent days, proves so clearly. Both the individual and the nation must have peace of mind sometime, and it is well to be equipped for peaceful living as well as for warlike activity. As educated young men and women, you are equipped to enjoy the ideals and pleasures of life as you learned to know them through your study of art, music, and literature. Standards of living are not confined to the pantry only. Acquaintance with good books, a sense of appreciation of human values, ability to find recreation in one's own home — these are goals which your formal education have brought within your reach.

And then there is the whole realm of science. This branch of learning has enabled modern man to keep his senses and to remain rational in this era of phenomenal technological and atomic development. The fields of science are the great frontiers of today, and these fields as well as those of public service and social improvement beckon to you. It is the earnest hope of your parents and teachers that you, members of the Class of '48, will make your full contribution to them in fulfillment of the world's many needs.

CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS

Welcome, parents and friends, to Class Night of 1948.

These words have been spoken so often at previous Class Night programs that few think of them as more than a routine formula introducing the Class Night exercises. Yet if we but meditate upon this greeting, a living meaning can be realized.

Tonight we are about to conduct our program in the presence of our parents and friends. But their presence cannot be fully appreciated, for we have yet to feel the bitter sting of disappointment. Now we are not wholly conscious of their faith and support, but all that we shall understand at some future time.

We of the Class of '48 shall soon be far from the halls of Bulkeley. After graduation, life will rush upon us with an enveloping cloud; opportunities will be many, but in fulfilling them, we shall encounter numerous misfortunes and, in some instances, failures. In the conquest of these obstacles, the love and confidence of parents and true friends are indispensable; for, with this love and encouragement, we can continue undaunted to achieve unlimited success and happiness.

Welcome, parents and friends, to Class Night of 1948.

CLASS ORATION

YOUTH IN THE WORLD TODAY

Is youth in the United States on the downgrade? If one followed the magazines and newspapers, he would surely get a bad impression of us, the future leaders of America. I want to point out one or two of the better qualities of American youth today. Strangely enough, these qualities seem to be the lesser known characteristics of our young people.

First, if you will, look at the congregations of the churches right here in our own community. Though young people stay out late on Saturday night, they do go to church on Sunday. Young people, being active, expect a good deal from their churches, and a church in turn looks for good things from its youth.

Then, too, a great many more young people are entering college after completing high school than ever before. True, the G.I.'s are plentiful in our colleges today, but you'll also find many ambitious young people who want to further their education. Here in our own graduating class a goodly number will be starting college next September. You might ask, where do young people get all the money they spend at college? More young people hold part-time jobs than ever before. They do not ask for increases in their allowances; they earn the money by the use of a little ingenuity. Dances, outdoor sports, parties, the selling of various articles are just a few ways by which students earn money. Give us a little time to mature, and I don't think you'll find us a "lost generation."

The young people of Russia are citizens of the fastest-growing large nation on earth. The government makes generous awards for large families. There is governmental interest in these young people, no matter where they live in the sixteen republics that comprise the familiar U.S.S.R. There are organizations similar to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts serving as outlets for the energies of young Russians, among whom are some of the most vigorous young people in the world. But the government worries mostly about their lives being well-rounded so that they may take their places in the Soviet system as soon as possible. There are pictures of Stalin and other politicians tacked up everywhere, giving these young people little chance to forget their leaders.

Their instructors and immediate counselors are merely graduates of the same governmental educational set-up, too intelligent to be wasted in the Army. These instructors, or young Communists, are getting credit toward becoming full party members, similar to the way in which one gets credit toward his Master's degree in the United States. The Russian children are just as proud to become leaders of their pioneer groups as ours are to become leaders in Scout or 4-H Clubs. Young people in Russia get good schooling if they show any intelligence or eagerness to learn; in fact, four years of schooling are compulsory for all. After this, the equivalent of our grammar school, comes secondary schooling where the pupils are selected by stiff examinations. Their examinations for University entrance are still more difficult, and are not taken by many girls. Scholarships are a necessity for most Russians who qualify for college, because there are few people of high financial standing there. There are awards given by the government in the name of many Soviet heroes. Science is the most widely taught course in Russia. In place of football teams, they have sport clubs in and out of school which encourage body-building gymnastics. Religion is seldom taught because the government is afraid of its mind-building effect. Although these young people make spirited fighters, they could not live happily anywhere else.

In Germany the young people are lacking in ideals and morals. The leaders of the now defeated regime knew that whoever controls the youth of a nation controls the future. Supreme control over their youth loomed so important in these evil leaders' minds that they cared little about the weakening effect of their control upon the home and the church. This unfortunate generation, which was so often told by its leaders that it was superior to all others in the world, is consequently in a sad state. These young people are not to blame for their beliefs. Now, since all that they believed in has been exposed and their leaders crushed, they know not what to do. They are adopting easy, wrong ways of living in preference to hard, right ways. Their former lives were virtually halted, disrupted, and ruined. These young marauders are so desperate that they steal to live. They have an eleventh commandment, "Thou shalt not be caught." Unless a program of rehabilitation is successfully set to work, this will be Germany's "lost generation."

The school children of Britain are slowly getting back on their old schedules, but it will be a long time before the schools there are rebuilt, not to mention the homes. With their faith, past experience, and willingness to learn, all we need to do is help them get the tools of education and normal life into working order. They have outdoor worship services even now, in the cold and snow. Admirable are these young people and their elders, deserving of our help regardless of what we think of their form of government.

We, the youth of this Atomic Age, are growing up at a critical period, indeed. A young Russian girl, valedictorian of her particular ten-year class, uttered a theory at her graduation which typifies the spirit of youth everywhere. "Life is good and to live is good, in such a land, in such an epoch . . . we, the young owners of our country, have been called upon to conquer space and time in shortening the road to peace."

CLASS ESSAY

SO LITTLE DONE, SO MUCH TO DO

HOUSE, a house, my kingdom for a house. This slightly revised phrase has become the timely battle-cry of many of our returned war veterans. They have come home to an acute housing shortage, and, realizing this, it has been necessary for many of them to pay all time highs for houses so worthless they could not withstand a Florida winter. At present some contractors are "giving away" five and six room houses for ten thousand dollars, houses that aren't worth any more than six thousand, including profit. I sometimes think that the cave man had the right idea. Maybe he didn't practise any good neighbor policy, but at least he never knew the pain and feeling of insecurity that comes with being evicted or of living in a car. Even if he did club his woman and stone trespassers, he reigned king in his own castle.

As the age of the cave man disappeared and civilization came on apace, man began to realize that unity was necessary for existence. The feeling of enmity between men died out, and hatred existed only between clans and nationalities. Groups, communities, towns, cities, and finally great empires began to be formed. This grouping by man brought with it, as deeds of men usually do, both good and bad results. It encouraged progress in the way of invention, science, and standards of living, but induced retardation and destruction by way of crime, war, and the growth of slums.

The slums occur to such an extent at the present time that they have become an accepted necessity in the great majority of cities throughout the world. This is the folly of man. How could anyone imagine that man, the highest of God's creatures, could live in a house fatal to its occupant because of falling ceilings, faulty stairs, dirty surroundings, or lack of sanitary facilities? Yet such is man's lot in the slums of any great city. No sooner has one reformer succeeded in reducing certain slum areas than some other condition arises to create the very condition progress seemed to be eliminating. Today in the very decade when slum clearance seemed to be making real progress, unscrupulous contractors have arisen to glue together slapstick, eye-catching houses, which will certainly become the slums of tomorrow.

These are the structures that our vets are planning to settle down in. Within a few years these houses will be so far gone that reconditioning them will be not only senseless but also impossible.

In one particular case, a sailor returned home after overseas duty, bought a six room house for ten thousand dollars, and in less than six months the cellar was flooded, the house began to warp from the foundation, and the plaster on the ceiling fell, injuring one of the occupants. This is only one of the countless examples of destruction going on in the United States alone, in a supposedly constructive period. It is difficult to comprehend the method in the madness of such contractors, for they only tear down any reputation they might have had and build up a hatred and depression in the hearts and minds of the people who have put their savings into such objects of disappointment.

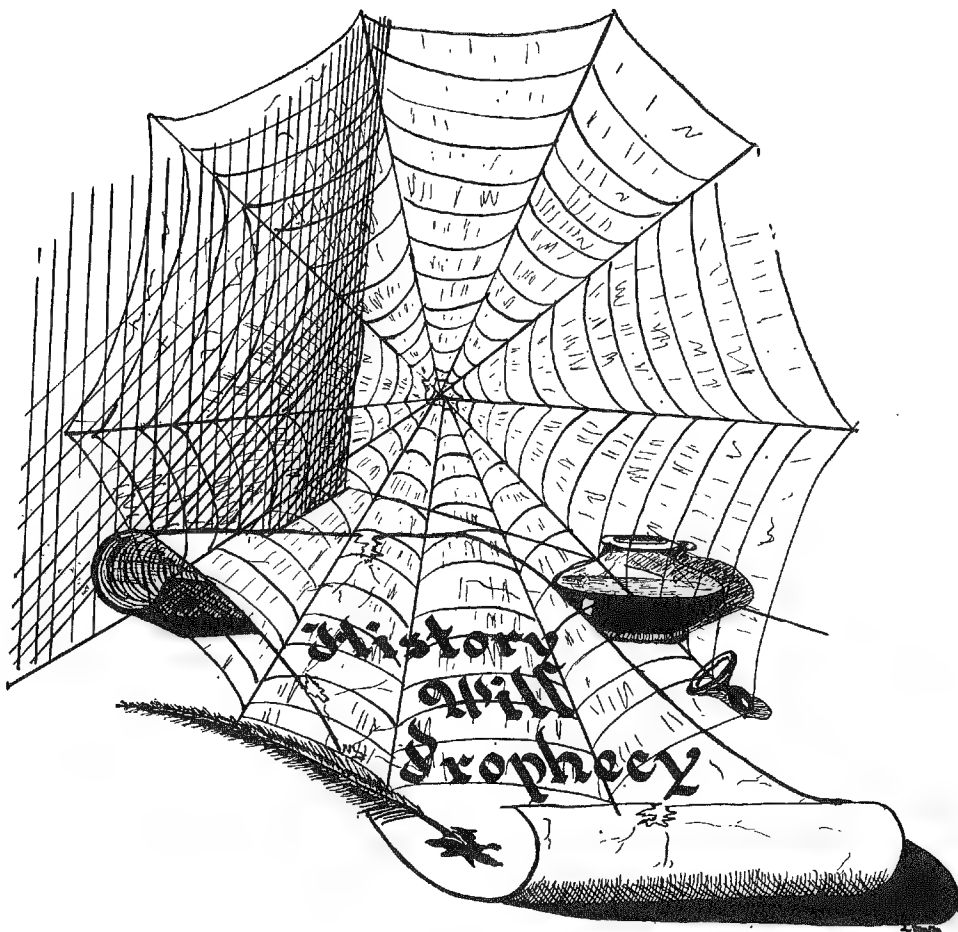

Little do we realize and even less do we seem to care about the firm hold that the real estate lobby has on some of our Congressmen. By their talk and threats of non-support they have tried, and unfortunately have succeeded in some cases, in forcing legislation in their favor. One of their victories was the defeat of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill in the House after it had passed the Senate without one dissenting vote. Our President asked for an investigation of these lobbyists, but was severely criticized by a few of our Representatives. Perhaps some of our Congressmen do not fully realize their responsibilities to all the people who elect them. A few lobbyists seem more influential than thousands of veterans.

The unfortunate truth lies in the fact that good materials are available for the construction of roadhouses, taverns, and other places of amusement. Our countryside and city business districts have been speckled with these structures to such an extent that it is impossible to travel even a short distance without seeing several of them. These establishments provide a source of entertainment for a great many of our citizens, helping them to relax and relieving the tension of their everyday life. Since relaxation is vital to pleasant living, it is no one's aim entirely to destroy these roadhouses, but merely to limit them so that valuable plumbing and building materials may be used more beneficially to house American families. Certainly hundreds of thousands are in desperate need of better housing.

If Shakespeare was right when he said that the evil that men do lives after them, then I am glad that I shall not be obliged to study the history books of tomorrow. Their pages will be so filled with tales of woe that our descendants will marvel that we ever survived such a terrifying era as this. Some may think this stress uncalled for, but to those who have suffered eviction or seen their houses gradually fall to pieces, it is no article in a magazine or text book. It is real fact. They have suffered misfortune for which we are all indirectly responsible. We must realize that building below-standard homes is destroying America, and destroying America is destroying us. We could perform no greater service to ourselves and our country than by supporting the rehabilitation program of our few statesmen. Improved housing at a moderate rate is but one step on their journey towards a brighter future.

CLASS HISTORY

Time — 1968.

Place — A Dentist's Office.

Setting — Toni Fontana seated at Receptionist's Desk when John Vallario enters.

John — Hello. My name is John Vallario, and I'd like an appointment for next week.

Toni — John Vallario? Pardon me, but didn't you attend Bulkeley High?

John — Yes, I did, and aren't you — let me see — oh, I know, you're Toni Fontana!

Toni — It's been a long time since our high school days, hasn't it?

John — Didn't we write some sort of story about our years at Bulkeley?

Toni — That story we wrote was the Class History.

John — So it was, and do you remember our first days at Bulkeley and how we gazed admiringly at the upper classmen?

Toni — I'll never forget how shy and quiet we all were at our first big dance which was given by the Girls' League and the Boys' Club. Although most of us were wall-flowers, we still had a wonderful time.

John — We were all so proud to be members of the student body that year, because of the victory the football team achieved against New Britain, with a score of 13-0.

Toni — Yes, and we had talent not only on the football team, but also in the Junior Dramatic Club.

John — Joan Kenny, Alice Hall, Alice Sarkesian, and Bob Neff were among the many stars.

Toni — Then before we knew it, we were no longer freshmen, but sophomores greeting the new arrivals from Burr Junior High who made up the majority of our class.

John — Being sophomores, some of us came out of our shell of shyness and participated in both social and athletic events.

Toni — I remember "Torch Nite" of that year ran Betty-Ann Gentino in her first debut as a dancer.

John — Yes, and don't forget little Joe Arzaniewicz, who was the sparkplug of the varsity basketball team.

Toni — They both established themselves as capable performers.

John — Once again we gained attention in the Junior Dramatic Club, with Tommy Gorman, Rene Roy, and Carmela DeMaio in the leading roles of "The Rising of the Moon."

Toni — The auditorium was always crowded because of their wonderful acting.

John — Do you recall the successful season the track team had that year?

Toni — Wasn't it because of "Moe" Bielonko who was a big gun at throwing the javelin?

John — Yes, and I think he did use a gun when it came to throwing that javelin.

Toni — I was glad when our sophomore year was over, for when we returned in September we became not only Juniors but upperclassmen as well.

John — Also with autumn and the falling leaves came our rugged football team, who ran circles around their opponents.

Toni — But this was principally due to the able support of Al Murasso, John Papa, Al Dubrutsky, Don Osalza, and Lou Malizia.

John — And because of his outstanding ability at playing center, Dick Kask was awarded the Conrose Trophy at the end of the Bulkeley-Weaver game.

Toni — "Babe" Allen didn't have to worry about his future football team with players like them.

John — Angela Harris, Donald Caruso, and Gene Rosi, who devoted their time and energy to the "Torch," were promoted from columnists to Associate Editors.

Toni — Speaking of the "Torch," remember the grand write-up Nat Arcari and Nancy Lynch received for their brilliant performance in the play "Stardust"?

John — Although our eyes had been filled with stardust, it soon disappeared, for the Junior Class was suddenly stricken with fear as the T.B. tests invaded our school.

Toni — Everyone was complaining because he was getting stuck — in the arm, that is!

John — After we had recuperated from our injections, the portals of Bulkeley were opened to friends and families, for it was once again Parents' Night.

Toni — Of course, when the boys heard that the girls were putting on a program in the gym, standing room was unavailable.

John — And in the auditorium, pupils of different nationalities presented an International Night, each dressing in a costume representing his or her country.

Toni — Wasn't golf resumed once more as a sport at Bulkeley that year?

John — Yes, and the golf team was composed of such outstanding players as James McPhee, Paul Marianella, Frank (Pin-up Boy) Procaccino, and Don (Trigger) Lynch, who were up to par, as they continually defeated their opponents.

Toni — As preparations began for the Junior Prom, that long awaited event, the halls were filled with dashing boys trying to date their best girls for this dance.

John — It was an event which I know is remembered by all the members of our class, who will always be thankful to Bob Bannon and his committee for making it a huge success.

Toni — As the year came to a close, our classmates began filling offices which were vacated by graduating seniors. The "Torch" was proud to announce the appointment of Donald Caruso and Gene Rosi as co-editors, and Angela Harris as managing editor.

John — Mary-Ellen Donahue and Antoinette Fontana shared the duties of Business Managers with Ruth and Rena Orient.

Toni — Nancy Lynch was chosen president of the Girls' League and Bob Bannon became president of the Boys' Club.

John — Betty Lewis and Ed Geary were elected President of the Student Council and Honor Society, respectively.

Toni — With these offices filled, a feeling of distinction settled over the whole class, and when we returned in September we could at last call ourselves Seniors.

John — We looked forward to a year filled with fun and excitement, and the last of marking period exams.

Toni — About this time of our Senior year we were all very sorry that Dr. Feingold could not be with us for a while because of illness.

John — But we were fortunate to have Dr. Mahoney with us during that time, for under his good guidance our school activities went on uninterrupted!

Toni — We won the city championship in football that year, didn't we?

John — That's right — and those games with Weaver and Hartford were certainly exciting.

Toni — Wasn't the performance by the Senior Dramatic Club of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" wonderful?

John — It certainly was! Nancy Lynch and Renee Roy really lived their parts in that one.

Toni — "Torch Nite" found "Smiling Ed" Connors as M. C. introducing the singing trio — John Papa, Dick Ryan, and John Vallario.

John — Alice Sarkesian's famous beauty demonstration kept the audience in hysterics.

Toni — Then there were swimming meets to attend, and these were always exciting, since Bulkeley had such good swimmers in Bernie Gonthier, Dick Ryan, Frank Degenis, and Jay Roberts.

John — They were no more exciting than our basketball games. Of course, the seniors were especially happy that our team went to the New Haven tournament that year.

Toni — That whole team deserved a good deal of credit for its many victories.

John — At last the night of the Sno-Frolic arrived, and the gaily decorated gym was filled with happy, dreamy couples dancing to the music of Chris Yannis and his band.

Toni — Credit for the very beautiful and unusual decorations went to Lorry Tellier and her committee.

John — Our Senior year was almost at an end, and it seemed there were millions of elections and other events going on.

Toni — Shirley Bayer was working very earnestly as editor of our class book.

John — And Dick Ryan and his committee were busy planning for Senior Nite, the Senior Banquet, and the Senior Reception.

Toni — Then all of a sudden we had graduated, and now all we have are the memories of those four happy years.

John — Yes, but our high school days at BHS are something to remember.

Toni — It was wonderful talking to you after so many years. How about next Wednesday for your appointment?

John — Next Wednesday will be fine! Maybe we'll think of some things we left out, and we can continue this discussion. Goodbye, Toni.

Toni — Goodbye, John. See you next week.

ANTOINETTE FONTANA,
JOHN VALLARIO

CLASS WILL

WE, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Eight, being of sound mind (thanks to the teachers) and of sound body (thanks to Miss Tracy and "Babe" Allen), and having finished our never-to-be-forgotten years at Bulkeley High School, have here assembled our last will and testament to be read publicly for the first time at our Alma Mater in Hartford, Connecticut, United States of America, on June the sixteenth, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Eight.

To Dr. Feingold and Dr. Dargan, to Miss Kienle, Miss Wheeler, Mr. Anderson, and the other members of the faculty, we leave our everlasting thanks for their kind guidance and helpful assistance throughout our years of school life at Bulkeley.

To Dr. Mahoney we leave our deepest gratitude for his understanding during his stay as Acting Principal.

(Joan) — To Miss Plumb we leave a quiet and unwitty fourth year Latin class.

To Mr. Jenkins we bequeath a luminous bow-tie.

To Mr. Wilson we leave a supply of nickels and dimes to dispense as he sees fit in his future Senior Math classes.

To Mr. Coburn we bequeath a rocket ship for his planned trip to the moon.

To Mr. Cook we leave a very quiet and orderly sixth period study hall.

Joe "Half-Track" Arzaniewicz leaves his blushes to light up the second floor corridor.

Barbara McCormick bequeaths her vivacity and zest for living to "Mer" Flynn — not that she needs any.

Ed Connors leaves his magnetic and winsome personality to Jim Molloy.

Claire Coll bequeaths her ability to get into trouble to Lorraine Roman.
Ed "Smokey" Samolyk leaves "Babe" Allen without a left halfback, back guard, and center fielder.

"Duffy" Ladas and Renee Roy leave their flirtatious ways to Jack "Banjo-Eyes" Sledesky and Pat Dewell.

Margaret Bouchard leaves the lower classmen wondering where she got her nickname.

Jim Garvey leaves his spirits to his brother Don in order to brighten up the Junior Class.

Irene Connors bequeaths her red knee socks to Louise Boyer.

Frank Procaccino leaves BHS by a path of broken hearts to be sold every Valentine's Day.

Connie McCarthy bequeaths her red hair to Lillian Coughlin.

Bob Bannon leaves his popularity to Danny DaBica.

Shirley Bayer bequeaths her diet to the Borden twins — what wonders it works!

Ernestine Sadotti leaves her report card to the library to be filed under "A".

Ray White bequeaths his height to George Morance.

Dick Finn and Toni Fontana leave their cute looks to Tommy Walsh and Dolly Camire.

Ellie Lundquist leaves her trouble with chemistry to each and every Junior who decides to take it on the chin.

Joan Burton bequeaths her demureness to Nancy Donlin.

Frank Dengen is leaves his dimple to — NO! We won't let anyone have it.

Mike Farina and Pat Swift leave hand in hand.

Jean Hull leaves her "a la casualness" to Molly Frohman.

Dick Ryan and Andy O'Brien bequeath their size thirteen shoes to any Bulkeleyite who can fit into them.

Maureen Curtin leaves the cheerleaders corps with all its transportation problems to Joan Rafferty.

Lou Malizia bequeaths his athletic abilities to Nick Flamio.

(Joe) "Red" Scallion leaves his serious manner somewhere in Bulkeley, where he lost it the day he entered.

Lillian Scollo bequeaths her petiteness to Nancy Pushe.

Larry "Moe" Bielonko leaves a book entitled "One Hundred Excuses for Tardiness."

Nancy Lynch bequeaths her sincerity and just plain niceness to Betty Sullivan.

Bill Ulitsch leaves a little of his wit to Bill McCormick to replenish his supply.

Joan Quirk bequeaths her clothes to Maureen Kelly.

Joyce Evans leaves her house — open as usual.

Bernie Gonthier leaves his diving honors to Mickey Oliver.

Jim McPhee and Doris Branday bequeath the halls to Jack Brigham and Marie Bordonaro.

Betty-Ann Gentino leaves her fine record as a "Torch Nite" performer to Connie Formica.

Jim Rice leaves his brother Joe on the basketball court.

Wally Spencer and Lee Stenberg leave their plans for the obliteration of BHS to next year's chem lab classes.

Ronnie McKenna leaves her happy-go-luckiness to Irene Byzdon.

Jim Kennelly bequeaths his horn-rimmed glasses to Mrs. O'Brien to add to her collection.

Joan Maroney leaves her men troubles to Glenna Slattery.

The triple-threat of our class — the Cox twins, the Orient twins, and the Valleri twins — leave the teachers still guessing.

Al Murasso leaves Jim Gunning to fill in between center and tackle.

Paul Marianella and "Trigger" Lynch leave for Goodwin Park.

Jean Cermola bequeaths her way with the boys to Stella Reaside.

Alice Sarkesian bequeaths her natural ability as a comedienne to liven up next year's entertainments.

Betty Lewis leaves — a shining example that beauty and brains can mix.

Al Dobrutzky leaves his bottle of glue to Tony Mirabello and the other football players for their fingers.

Gloria Carlson bequeaths the Parade of Youth to the circus.

Tom Cavanaugh leaves some of his quietness to Gerry Fisher, who can use it.

Pat Keen bequeaths the "New Look" to Diane Tobias.

Joe Zaurotniak leaves the school with a depleted supply of demerit slips.

Bob Carroll leaves for the "Wooster" looking for interesting prospects.

Barbara Rudewicz leaves the school wondering what hit it.

And last, but not least, Noreen McGrath leaves.

In witness whereof, We, Class Testator and Class Testatrix of the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Forty-Eight, do hereby affix our seal and signatures this day, June the sixteenth, in this year of our Lord.

JOAN M. KENNY,
JOSEPH L. SLATTERY

CLASS PROPHECY

Announcer — Station WBHS, endorsers of the famous Arzaniewicz sandwich, now . . .

J. G. — Will you please turn off that radio? You know I can't read my paper with all that racket.

R. R. — That's all you ever do — read your paper. You haven't taken me out once in the ten years we've been married. My mother told me it would be like this if I rushed into marriage right after I got out of high school.

J. G. — All right! All right! We'll go to a movie if you want. But you'd think I was made of money. Whom do you think I work for, Dick Finn? Look for the theater page in this part of the paper.

R. R. — My, My! Did you notice this? Socialite Diane Pierce of Hartford and Miami is suing Robert Scallion for slander because he recently called her a redhead in one of his gossip columns, and she claims that it's auburn. Their attorneys are Kenneth Westrom and Irene Connors, respectively. The case will be heard by the Honorable Frank Reynolds. The star witnesses are Tommy Killacky, John Dowd, Donald Edwards, and Chris Bassich. Dear me, what next!

J. G. — Dear, would you remind me to get the new novel, "Polished Apples," by Gene Rosi and Dee Caruso, published by McCormick and McGrath, and illustrated by Cornelius DiBella and Lorraine Tellier? It sounds exciting. All I have to do to get it is to send 5,000 box tops from Kennelly's Kennell Kill and $5.00. With the book you are sent a pamphlet by the noted health authority, Donald Lynch, on "How to Keep Slim, Well, and Happy." There has been talk of making it into a movie starring Two-Gun Andy O'Brien. Ought to be good.

R. R. — All right! But look what I came across! "Famous model, 'The Smile,' formerly known as Ed Connors, chipped his teeth last night while eating a steak prepared by Chef Lawrence Bielonko at the ritzy Dengenis Dinery. Luckily, his ivories were insured by the trustworthy Perez & Perez Insurance firm. Attractions at the Sarkesian Museum for Ancient Relics include multi-colored demerit slips of Joe Zaurotniak and a twitch left by the celebrated ballet dancer William Ulitsch, when he last visited our fair city."

J. G. — Look at this bit of news. "The famous woman scientist, Jeanne Hull, who has been studying the earth and planets for ten years, is once again trying to get to the moon, but now with the able assistance of her colleagues, Maureen Curtin and Jean Cermola, the prospect of accomplishing her mission seems much lighter. Another famous personage in the scientific field, the No-Bull Prize winner, William Lowry, has recently perfected his 'Dry Water' which will revolutionize household duties." Gee, Renee, it says here that we won't have to dry the dishes after washing them with it. I bet that will be a big help to those newlyweds, Doris Branday and Jim McPhee, who have just moved into that new home designed by Architects Herbert White and Jane Wheeler. The house comes complete with an indoor golf range invented by pros Marianella and Procaccino. They were such enthusiasts that they had to find a way to beat nature.

R. R. — Hey, Jim, did you notice that they are unveiling a statue of Major General Andrew Demos up in Goodwin Park tomorrow! He's President of some classy Military Institute down in Virginia. The statue was donated by his ardent admirers, Jean Cox and Joan Quirk, and was sculptured from pure brick by Marilyn Camilleri and Robert Neff who were. . . . Darling, did you know that Burton's Basement Bargain Store is having a sale on Papa's Pink Dainties and Margaret Bouchard's Beauty Bath? I'll have to run down there tomorrow and look the stock over. Besides, I'll have to see the fashion show being put on by Monsieurs Ed Daly and Raymond White. They are displaying all their newest creations fresh from Paris, modeled by Shirley George, Mary Cox, Joyce Evans, Gloria Doak, and Natalie Arcari. They are featuring the "New Look," which brings the women's skirts up above the knee about four or five inches.

J. G. — Oh! Every time you step out of this house it costs me money. Why don't you go somewhere where you would learn something? Tomorrow the famous Professor Ernestine Sadotti is going to lecture on "Child Care as a Doctor's Wife Sees It." Other speakers will be Shirley Bayer, Norma Axelrod, Shirley Fay, Paul Boornazian, and William Becker, who will debate the question "Can Pineapples Be Grown in the Polar Region?"

R. R. — You are always worrying about money. If it weren't for you, I'd probably have my picture plastered all over the paper like these people. Socialites Ruth and Rena Orient, Shirley Krips, Gloria Carlson, Robert Mansbach, Wilfred Adolphi, and Jean Drakos are holding a tea in honor of social leader Miss Gert Bancroft, president of the new, ultra-exclusive "Sound View Surf Club." One devil-may-care playboy, Joseph Slattery, of the Rosewood Slatterys, will be among the guests of honor. The tea will be held at the palatial mansion of Bernice Quint, with epicures

John DeMonte and Joseph Shuckerow catering. Entertainment will be provided by Society's Songbird, Smiling Mary Shea, and concert pianist George Jalbert. This affair promises to be the social highlight of the year.

J. G. — Oh, never mind that business! Let's look over Columnist Toni Fontana's flashes about local figures. Maybe we will come across some of our old classmates.

R. R. — Yes! I see that Joan Kenny is putting up a good fight against Lou Malizia for Mayor of our fair city, and that Joan Maroney is presenting a ballet at Bushnell next Friday night.

J. G. — Also our old friend Betty Lewis has at last settled down and married some guy who opened a soft-drink stand on the corner of Scollo and Lundquist Streets. Ronnie McKenna and Nancy Lynch, lady wrestlers, will be featured in a bout at the Reinke Auditorium next Wednesday, with Jack Rea as the referee of the big event.

R. R. — Gee, I'd certainly like to see "The Platinum Twins," the new act fresh off Broadway, put on by Barbara Patrizz and Barbara Rudiewicz at "Kid" Dobrutzky's Cafe, where they do a novel dance routine with Joan Grinold. It might be worth seeing.

J. G. — Phil Trowbridge and Lee Stenberg entered the skiing contest sponsored by Bill Sullivan. They are now under the able care of Bob Glass, M. D., at the Raoul Peterson Hospital. Their nurses are Lil Whitehead, Pat Simms, and Joan Boerner.

R. R. — Claire Coll, Lucille Pfanensmith, and Joan LeClaire, three of Hollywood's greatest stars, are starting a nationwide tour in order to publicize their new picture, "The Last of the Brownies," produced and directed by Richard Ryan and taken from the new novel by Adolph Ladas. They plan to visit their hometown where they will reside at the home of their old classmate, the famous Raymond Drakoff, of the "Drakoff and his Magic Violin" program.

J. G. — It certainly looks as if a lot of our old buddies made out well, doesn't it? Well, here's the theater page at last. Let's see what's playing in town. "The Terror Trio," Bob Bannon, Don Osalza, and Smoky Samolyk, are appearing in the picture "The Three Little Sisters," which is now playing at the Rialto. It is the story of three little girls who rose to fame and fortune on the football field.

R. R. — This looks good! Ronald Yungk and Betty-Ann Gentino are starring in a stage show at the old Webster Theater in which they do some song and dance routines from the Merlino sisters' new review, "Up in Goodwin Park." Entertainers are Mary Ellen Donaghue and Angela Harris.

J. G. — It says here that Arthur Barry, Bernice Quint, and Maurice Haag are appearing at Bushnell in an operetta written by John Vallario called "The Lost String." Do you think you'd like to go there?

R. R. — Gee, the time certainly has flown by! I think it's much too late to go to a show.

J. G. — Well, let's turn on the radio and see if we can get the latest news.

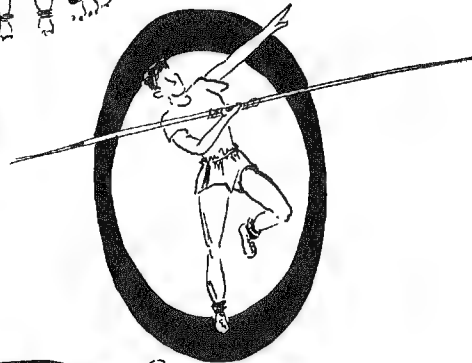

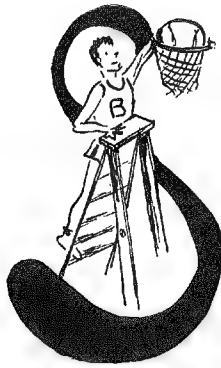

Announcer . . . "And now we present our songbird of television, Miss Connie McCarthy, who will sing an old time favorite." (At this time Connie McCarthy will sing "That Old Gang of Mine.")

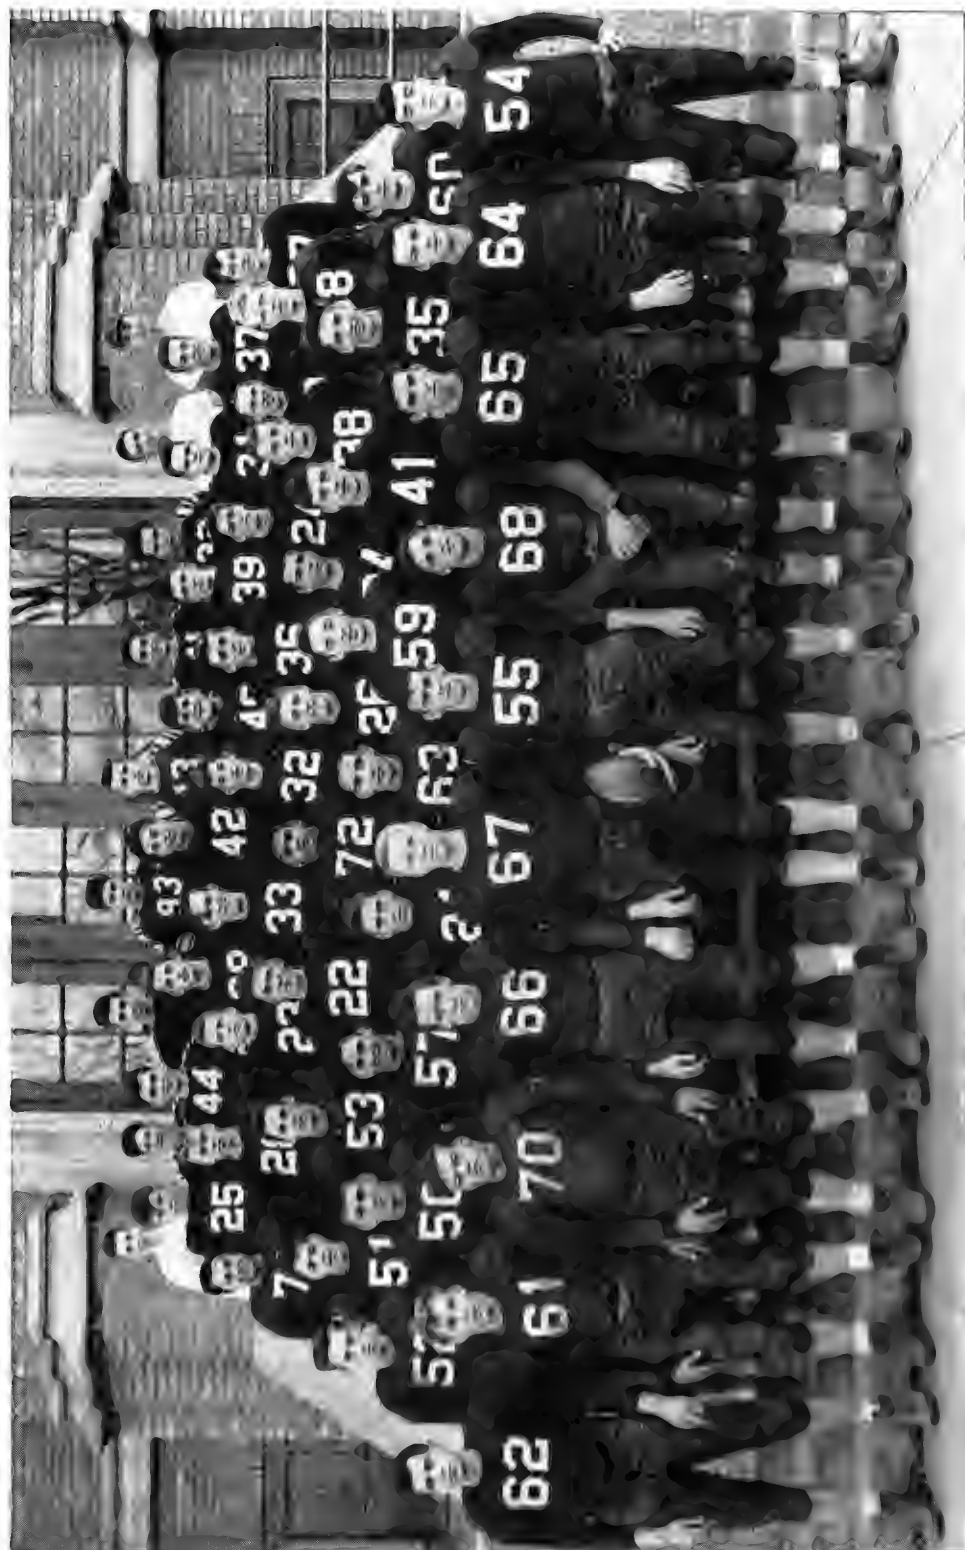

R. R. — Gee, that song brings back a lot of memories.

J. G. — Yeah! It reminds me of the good old days back in Bulkeley when we were young and carefree.

R. R. — Oh! Go back to your paper and don't be so sentimental.

RENEE ROY,
JAMES GARVEY

THE 1947 FOOTBALL TEAM

FOOTBALL

The 1947 edition of the Maroon and White football team, although not enjoying a winning season, nevertheless had a very successful one.

As the nucleus of his 1947 squad, Coach "Babe" Allen had lettermen Don Osalza, Al Murasso, Al Dobrutsky, Dick Kask, "Moe" Bielonko, Tom McDonnell, and Lou Malizia back from last year's famed team which copped the city co-district honors.

The lid was lifted at Exhibition Field in West Haven on September 27, and it proved a very interesting game, although Bulkeley was finally beaten 9-7 on a safety. The starting team, which lasted most of the season, found Dobrutsky and McDonnell at the wings, "Moe" Bielonko and Don Woods at the tackles, Al Murasso and Dick Ryan at the guards. Dick Kask completed the line. In the backfield were Bob Bannon calling the signals from his quarterback position, Don Osalza at fullback, and Tony Mirabello and Lou Malizia at the halves.

After a two-week lay-off from that heart-breaker at West Haven, the team went to Norwich and played the Academymen in another heart-breaker, losing this one 7-6.

The Hartford High game is to be remembered for a long, long time by all who saw it. In that game the Maroon power really asserted itself, for a half anyway. In the first half, confused and befuddled by Hartford High's new A formation, Bulkeley couldn't stop Hartford High's rolling power. But in the second half the Maroon came to life, scored two touchdowns, and with the help of Joe Listro's talented toe defeated Hartford High 13-12.

After meeting weak Bristol and winning by the score of 19-0, Bulkeley seemed destined to be going places. Its win over Weaver by its famed passing attack added new fuel to the fire. The game against the Green and White is another one which will long be remembered. In the first half Bulkeley and Weaver traded long scoring marches as both teams got their offenses rolling. But then Bulkeley quickly took possession of the ball and scored twice on two long passes. Score at the end of the half was 18-7. At the beginning of the third period two long passes and a plunge by Malizia brought about our winning score. Weaver put on a final rush, but the end was in sight as Bulkeley won 24-20. We were now the possessors of the city championship.

It might have been because they had played twice in the same week, but Bulkeley got trimmed by Hall the next Saturday 18-0. Hall played good football, but our boys were way behind par on their game and showed little of their power.

The traditional Turkey Day game at New Britain is easier to forget than to remember. Possessing many "holdovers" from previous squads, New Britain simply had too much for our team. However, our team did very creditably against them, all things considered.

Bulkeley placed two on the all-district, putting Tony Mirabello at a halfback position and "Moe" Bielonko at tackle. Bielonko, as well as receiving district honors, gained state recognition by making the second team at his position.

SWIMMING

This is the first year since the war that Bulkeley has had a swimming team. It contains such swimmers as Frank Dengenis, Gene Knorr, Charles Wrinn, Bernie Gonthier, Major Johnson, "Creepy" Ryan, Mickey Oliver, Paul Pelletier, and Richard Barone. Of nine meets, the swimming team won four and lost five. However, in every meet the opposing team was favored. Coach Atlin is looking forward to a bigger and better season next year.

THE 1947-1948 BASKETBALL TEAM

BASKETBALL

The 1947-1948 edition of the Bulkeley basketball team enjoyed a good season after a very poor beginning.

"Babe" Allen built his team around such stalwarts and lettermen as Ray White, Paul Marianella, and Joe Arzaniewicz, aided by the fine all-around play of sophomore Charlie Mazurek, and tall, spindly Joe Rice. These five were backed by five strong reserves in "Mike" Joseph, Frank Procaccino, "Smokey" Samolyk, Joe Perez, and Dick Mitchell.

The first part of the season proved disastrous for the Allenmen. In their first six starts they lost five games and seemed destined for their worst season in years. But then the team suddenly came to life, and in a Tuesday night game against Meriden showed their might as they slaughtered the Belltowners by a 57-34 score. Quick to follow Meriden on the losing trail were Weaver, Hartford, West Hartford, and famed New Britain. The New Britain game will long be remembered when talk goes to thrilling basketball games. The score was tied nine times during that thrilling contest, but the Maroon and White won 32-30. In the last week of the season came two defeats at the hands of East Hartford and West Haven.

However, Bulkeley had qualified for the tournaments at New Haven.

Ranked last in the tournament, the Maroon and White had to face Warren Harding of Bridgeport in its playdown test, and won handily, as Ray White scored 20 points with an amazing 12 for 12 from the foul line. In its next test at New Haven the Allenmen faced the Red Raiders from Torrington, and lost 54-31, to bow out of the tournament.

Although it did not have too successful a season at first, the basketball team is to be congratulated for its fine showing towards the latter part of the season.

JOSEPH S. PEREZ

TRACK AND BASEBALL

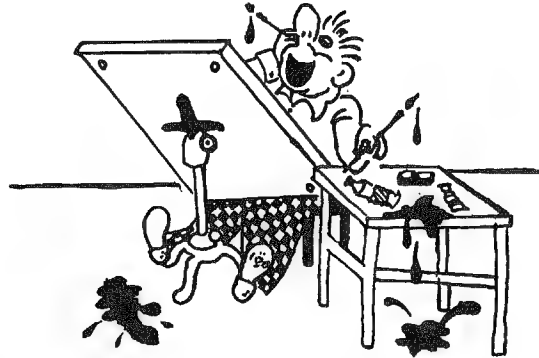

Because of the fact that the Class Book must go to press early in May, the latter half of the spring sports programs cannot be included. However, we of the sports department will try to give you as accurate a picture as we can.

Both track and baseball teams are off to auspicious starts. The baseball team has played East Hartford, Hall, and Weaver. With only three veterans back, Coach Allen has had to build an almost new team. At first base we find "Dittie" Civitillo; at second Dick Mitchell; at short Jack Sledesky; and at third Joe S. Perez. The catching lines up with Bernie Corona and Gus Bedrossian. In the outfield we have "Smoky" Samolyk, Ray Barry, Nick Carlo, and Nick Flamio. On the mound we have the sophomores, Charlie Mazurek and Fran Rainey. On the port side we find senior, Ray Warner. In the first game against East Hartford, free hitting and a "comedy of errors" found Bulkeley the victors 12-11, on the eighth inning circuit clout of Charlie Mazurek. John Sledesky collected four singles. The second game of the season against Hall found Bulkeley in a see-saw game which Hall finally won in the last of the ninth, 6-5. Mazurek went all the way for the Maroons. Against Weaver, all the boys found the range and the result was a slaughter of the Green, 13-2.

With veterans Lou Malizia, Moe Bielonko, Don Osalza, Gene Knorr, Peaches Pirog, and Nick Mastors, the track team seems destined for a fine season under Coach Bob Daly. Against Wethersfield, Bielonko set a new field record by throwing the javelin 177 feet 10 inches! Malizia collected 11 points and Don Dorval 9. The track team won 55-46. In the second meet against Bristol, on a rainy track, Bielonko broke another record throwing the spear 178 feet. Malizia, the versatile athlete, scored 19 points in five events. However, the track team lost 49-46 in a close meet.

Bulkeley High, oh Bulkeley High we leave you with re-gret. With Bulkeley High, oh Bulkeley High we bid you fair a-dieu. And mem - or - ies and vic - tor - ies and chal-len-ges we've met. The knowing that in future years we'll still be true to you. Our days we spent have al - ways meant a sigh, a smile, a tear. Our voi-ces ring in praises due to Al - ma Ma - ter great. 'Tis hearts will sing re - mem - ber - ing the hap - pi - est of years.
now we sing our last farewell the class of forty eight.
Bulkeley High, oh Bulkeley High the grandest of all schools.
For - ward on to vic - tor - y will al - ways be our rule.
On - ward On - ward till the day we die for dear old

Class Song

Words and Music by Kathryn B. Diamond

The class of for-ty eight, Is read-y to say good-bye! We've We've reached the fin-al grade, From Bulk-el-ly we must part! We'll reached the part-ing date from dear old Bulk-eley High! Though the keep the friends we've made, In whichever course we chart! Though we years may sor-row bring, Fond mem'ries will al-ways cling, Of those trav-el far and wide, We can al---ways point with pride, From our days we treas-ure Be-yond all meas-ure, Those we days of earn-ing To those of learn-ing, Back in spent in Bulk-eley High! chorus: Let's say good-dear old Bulk-eley High! High! And bid our bye! To Bulk-eley High! And bid our teach-ers fond a-dieu, We real-ly-- grieve, that we must leave, and to Bulk-eley we'll be true. Let's give a cheer for our school dear, And now that part-ing time is nigh, Our voi-ces ring, As praise we sing, And say farewell to Bulk-eley High!
